THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L., SR.

Henry Wallace's third party needs a name. He may have one in mind, but it is not likely to stick even if he, himself, carries the infant to the baptismal front in all its bright white christening robes. Henry's party will get its name in due time, most likely from the opposition, which in this case is the Democratic and Republican parties.

Wallace unquestionably hopes to gather the New Dealers, who were not, and are not Democrats in the accepted sense, into his third party fold. He finds nothing incompatible in the company of a few thousand Communists, though he shys away from the word himself. The dissident elements of the country who were left orphans when FDR died will unite behind Wallace. There is a hope among them that Wallace will be able to revive the Franklin D. Roosevelt tradition, make the good old days, twelve years of them, live again.

But the third party needs a name, a catchy, seductive name, and perhaps a slogan, or a lifting tune, to interest the electorate. We have had all sorts of third parties, The Mugwumps, the Populists, The Greenbackers, the Bull Moose, and the Progressives, but none of these names even suggest a moniker for the Wallace third party.

Another event that will probably count even more votes against the candidacy of Harry Truman for president, is his recent advocacy of a new bill of rights under which the Jim Crow laws of the old South would be abrogated, along with the pernicious poll tax laws of several southern states. The Jim Crow laws apply not only to transportation but to education. In general, the laws segregate the blacks from the whites. Southern governors are up in arms. They threaten to secede from the Democratic party.

We are inclined to think that the new bill of rights proposed is ahead of its times, as much so, as the Prohibition Act. The Supreme Court of the U.S., one by one knocks the props out from under the state segregation laws, notably, in the case of Negro students seeking entrance to schools of higher learning. It only needs a few more decisions like that in the case of Ada Lois Sipuel vs the State of Oklahoma to vindicate the Bill of Rights we have in our Constitution. Another law won't force the South to abide by the Bill of Rights as those rights apply to he Negro. It is a matter of one step at a time, of enlightened tolerance and of education.

But the resentment stirred by President Truman's espousal of a new bill of rights, may result in such another exodus of the Southern Democrats as has not been seen since the party nominated the Brown Derby. Though, at that, the vote of the northern Negroes may go to Mr. Truman.

The Democratic party is facing a major crisis this year. It is a question whether Henry Wallace will add much to the crux, but every litle helps. Truman still has time to recant but we doubt if he does much to soften the blow to southern sensibilities.

Whether the Republicans win this year or not depends on how well they steer their course in Congress. At present they are finding a lot of fault with the Marshall plan for the restoration of Europe. They declare against a long term commitment, four years and against paying the price Secretary Marshall demands. That is, some of the near isolationists do. The wrangling may result in aid for reconstruction coming too late and being too little.

Tax reduction bills, if the past is an indication, must be passed over the president's veto. Cutting the president's budget is another bone of contention, though it will probably be trimmed a little, a couple of billions maybe, and the president won't veto it, of course. But to the man in the street, the accomplishment of the Republicans in Congress has thus far been disappointing. It is about time they quit bickering and got down to work with a heave-ho and all together.

For the past several years he has been active in country and community activities. He graduated from the Roseville Union High School, Sacramento Junior College, and in 1936, from the University of California at Berkeley. Because of the diversity of different activities by which we earn our living but which must still be carefully integrated, demands of the representatives of this District that they serve all groups equally without favoritism. I believe my training and experience in the basic needs of soil and water conservation for the foohill and mountainous area of our State coupled with my past record of unstinted support of all things progressive and beneficial to our particular foothill economy has proven that I will do my utmost to serve our District honestly and intelligently."

BILL MOULTON WRITES ON BUILDING FEE

French Corral, Calif.
February 6th, 1948.

The Nugget,
Nevada City, Calif.
Dear Editor:

I note in your Shopping News edition of the above date ,that Accountant L. M. Straine, has recommended that a nominal fee be charged for building permits in unincorporated areas.

It is my belief that the great majority of the people of our County, would be against such an ordinance, or any other mode of taxing new projects, which eventually become an asset ot the County in general.

Would be far better to require an individual or Corporation to file their notice of intended building with the Assessor, stating location etc.

Our one great endeavor should be to protect ,not discourage new enterprises, which means mutual prosperity.

For the betterment of all, I am,
Respectfully,
W. E. Moulton,
Smartsville, Calif.

Most saw mills, including the big Calida Mill at Brandy City, have closed.

The Idaho Maryland Mine has suffered no diminution in power, but the Idaho Maryland sawmill closed several days ago. Officials state it is impossible to get logs out of the woods while snow is deep on the ground.

Larry Farrell, manager of the P. G. and E. in Nevada County said: "We have asked our larger users of power to cut down wherever they can. But this of course, is a voluntary basis If everyone will use a little less current we feel very certain there will be enough to go around

JAIL NEEDS OVERHAULING, SAYS JURY

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Board of Supervisors yesterday heard the grand jury of 1947, headed by William Englehart, Sr. of Truckee, foreman, ask several improvements in the courthouse, and a delegation from the Nevada County Bar Association for an ordinance providing pay for attorneys who are delegated to defena law violators.

The grand jury asked for a complete overhauling of the county jail, which is a part of the courthouse, and from which Joseph L. Hardy, Jr. escaped last November. Arthur Hellings, chairman of the grand jury county jail committee, recommended that a new locking device be obtained, that the bars be strengthened, and that the entire jail be overhauled. He suggested a new jail building and sheriff's office be built separate from the courthouse. He asked that women's quarters in the jail be fireproofed and prisoners clothing issued to jail inmates.

The grand jury recommended that the mileage fee of 10 cents be increased to 15 cents. Supervisor Frank Rowe suggested that mileage fees of county officers, as well as those of the sheriff's office, be increased.

Hellings told the board that the grand jury recommends the establishment of a detention home.

John J. Looser, chairman of grand jury building committee, told the supervisors there should be an extra exit from the third floor. There are now three, the elevator and the stairway in front of the building, and stairway through the jail in the back.

REAL ESTATE MAN LAMBASTS GOVT. ENTERING BUSINESS

GRASS VALLEY: Fred B. Mitchell, San Diego real estate operator and president of the California Real Estate Association, in an address before the Nevada County Real Estate Board Friday night struck hard at "government in business."

"It is my studied belief", he declared, "that the government subsidized housing program is the greatest single menace with which we are confroned. It is the first step toward ultimate government ownership of all real property, which constitutes 65 per cent of our total wealth.

"This would put the government in a position to dominate completely our national economy. The transition from a government of laws to a government of men would be complete and the freedom which we have cherished so long would be a thing of the past.

"It is my firm conviction that the only way we can get the government out of the housing business is to buy it out. Therefore I propose and recommend that we form local limited dividend corporations for that purpose."

BUSH, CULLEN VARY ON SNOW ESTIMATE

NEVADA CITY: Frederick W. Bush, official weatherman for this area, reports that 12 inches of snow is the total fall for the past week. The coldest temperature was recorded about 3 A.M. Saturday at 16 degrees above zero.

Snow pack Monday night was 5 inches.

Of the total of 12 inches of snow, 1.82 of an inch was water, according to Bush. Biggest fall was on Friday ,when 6 inches fell.

Leo Cullen, Broad Street weather observer, reported that more snow than it was possible to record always fell. A big percentage of snow melts as soon as it falls, says Cullen, thereby making it impossible to measure except as additional water content in already existing snow. Upwards of 15 inches, according to Cullen's calculations, has fallen in the past week.

SNOW CAUSES COLLISIONS

GRASS VALLEY: A quarter inch of snow falling early Thursday morning presented a number of traffic hazards. Just Wonderin'

I Wonder now what steps to take,
What methods to pursue,
If we would teach the boys and girls
To think and plan and do.

Judging by what we hear, we are sometimes led to fer that our worthy legislators in their hours of relexation, turn thei minds to educational problems. At least there are rumors.

The general public has been told by teachers and others who are in a position to know, that our educational system needs overhauling. Teachers' salaries are woefully inadequate, school and college equipment is intiquate, schools are crowded, in fact, the entire system needs rejuvenation to bring it up to date and make it increasingly useful to the boys and girls of this rapidly changing world.

Needful steps must be taken if we are to go on boasting of our educational methods and facilities. This is truly a must problem for our campaigning legislators and we hope, that as they flit from the various states in search of votes, they will take time to learn the educational needs and desires of each community visited, and make these wants and wishes known to those who can do something about them.

There never was a greater need for sound educational methods and superior educational advantages than there is at the present time. The first step toward a general improvement of existing conditions, would be to increase the salaries of all teachers in order that the teaching profession may offer a future to those who desire to teach, and induce more scholarly men and women into the profession.

I often wonder about first steps as taken by the little ones whom we send to our primary schools; what are the most important things for them to learn, what are the most essential first studies? I used to thing that reading was the most important, but now I'm not s osure. One can't read, until one knows the value and meaning of words. In order to know and evaluate words and their various shades of meaning, one must first learn to handle the dictionary; in order to use the dictionary, one must know how to spell. Imagine the time wasted in searching for a word which begins with the prefix pre, when you are uncompromisingly concinced that it begins with per. That is only one sample of the trouble we find if using Webster's big book without an exact and assured knowledge of spelling. Well then, isn't spelling our most essential first study and can we glide instead of stumble along the path to an adequate education until we are adepts? Let us revise the old bromide about readin', writin' and 'rithmetic, "and cause it to say, "spellin', readin', etc."

I think it was Teddy Roosevelt who advised phonetic spelling and of course if our English words were always pronounced as they are spelled, spelling would be robbed of its ability to trick and trip us up; still, there is the noble ancestry of words to be considered and the information concerning peoples, history and other things which may be gained by looking up the origin of words and tracing them down to their present positions in the language, I think we'll have to place spelling books in the hands of our little ones and it wouldn't be a bad idea if many of us, myself definitely included, were to find our old spelling books and study the words and definitions contained therein.

Do You Have Noisy Neighbors?
A lot of the neighbors were suddenly annoyed by Jeb Crowell's hammering at night. Jeb was building himself a new front porch—and the only time that he could give to it was after sundown.
Finally we decided the best thing to do was all pitch in and help—and get the carpentry over with as soon as possible. We did. Finished the porch next evening—and Jeb gratefully treated us to ice cold beer and cider.
From where I sit, that's what being a good neighbor means. Instead of complaining about the other fellow's habits, try to understand and share his interests.
So if my practising on the flute annoys you, come on over, neighbor, with your fiddle or guitar and join me! Maybe it will end up in our knowing and appreciating one another better . . . in an evening of good fellowship. And I'll promise to provide the beer that goes with evenings of good fellowship!

Save Electricity!

THE DROUGHT HAS BROUGHT ABOUT AN EMERGENCY IN THE STATE'S POWER SUPPLY!

WE ARE COMPELLED TO ASK OUR CUSTOMERS TO CURTAIL THE USE OF ELECTRICITY IN THEIR BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS, ON THEIR FARMS AND IN THEIR FACTORIES.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP

IF YOU RUN A COMMERCIAL ESTABLISHMENT:

1. Turn off all window lights and electric signs.
2. Use no exterior or interior floodlighting.
3. Use electric power elsewhere only when necessary.

IF YOU RUN A FACTORY:

1. Curtail power consumption wherever you can.
2. Avoid use of electricity between the hours of 4 and 8 p.m., the peak load hours, shifting operations to other hours wherever possible
3. Check your factory and offices to eliminate all waste of electric power.

IF YOU ARE AT HOME:

1 Light no unused rooms
2 Use appliances for as short periods as possible

IF YOU ARE A FARMER:

1 Shut down your pumping plants whenever possible between 4 and 8 p.m., shifting your irrigation schedule to other hours of day or night
2. Use electrically-powered equipment only when absolutely necessary.

BECAUSE of the record drought there is an abnormal irrigation pumping load in the rural areas. In Northern and Central California this unseasonable demand for electricity now approximates 200,000 horsepower and comes at a time when under normal conditions our system load would be decreasing. The situation in the valleys would, of course, be relieved by heavy rain. Until such relief comes we must ask our customers to curtail their use of electricity in every possible way. Our customers can be assured that we have done and will continue to do everything possible to meet the problems brought about by the record drought.

There isn't always room for one more

Aboriginal Annie has reached the height of her social career—if those neck ringlets mean anything. There just isn't "room for just one more."

And likewise, a good many of today's homes—even the new ones—have reached the height of their electrical careers, simply because they are so inadequately wired. There just isn't room for one more electrical appliance without overloading the circuits and blowing fuses.

If you plan to build or modernize your home, insist on Adequate Wiring to guarantee yourself maximum comfort and convenience in this era of electrical living.

To insure peak operating efficiency of all your appliances. "Adequate Wiring" requires:

enough switches
enough electric outlets enough circuits
heavy enough wire throughout

Tell your architect or building contractor you want Certified Adequate Wiring.

HARDY TAKEN TO SERVE LIFE TERM

NEVADA CITY: Joseph L. Hardy, Jr., convicted last week of the murder of James W. McLain, elevator operator in Burbank, last July near Hirschdale, shortly after 9 o'clock last Tuesday morning left with Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins for San Quentin. His wife, Lois Hardy, convicted of the same murder December 18th by a jury in the same courtroom, and sentenced to death January 2nd, is awaiting, in the Tehachapi Instiution for Women, the outcome of an appeal to the state supreme court.

The pair were arrested in Las Vegas August 1st, following an accident to their car, which was later proved to be McLain's. On August 3rd, moved by a religious service in the jail, they confessed to the "lure" slaying of McLain. Lois had acted as the lure, and Joseph Hardy shot him three times through the head.

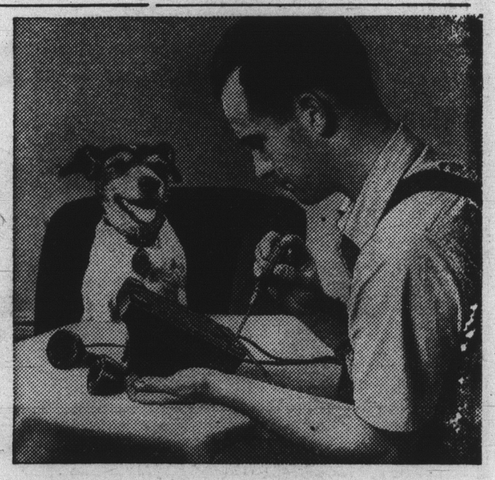
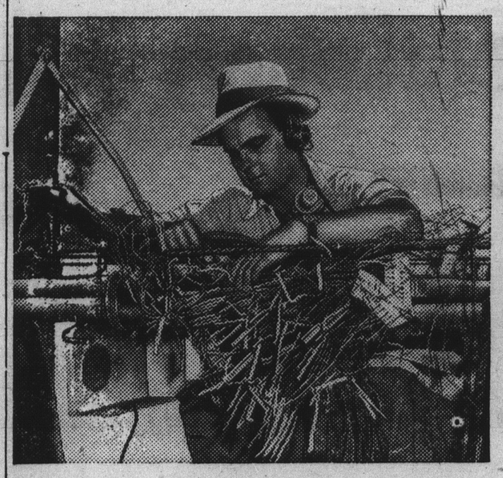
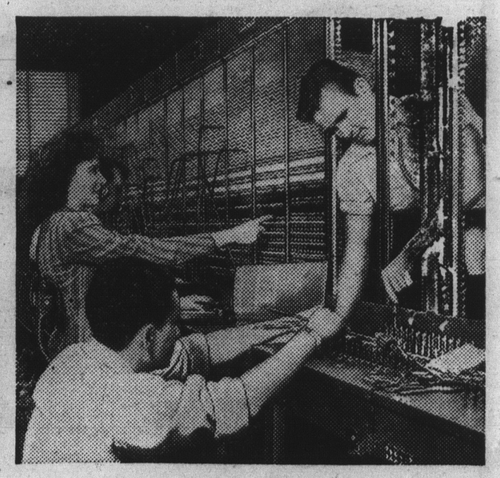
We've put in 2¼ MILLION TELEPHONES since V-J Day



1. We had to break records...and we did. Today we're serving over one-fourth more telephones than at the war's end—a net gain of three-quarters of a million. And, since every day many customers move, we actually had to install more than two and a quarter million telephones to make this gain.



2. Complex splices like this—thousands of them—went into the two million miles of wire we've put in. And that's only part of the story—more than 200 new buildings or additions...complex new switching equipment in almost all our buildings . . . these and other facilities are being added in the face of sharply rising costs and tough supply problems.



3. We're still working against time. Orders continue to flood in. To fill service needs we're adding facilities at the rate of more than half a million dollars a day—every day. A huge investment, yes. But telephones have been going in as never before in the West. And as the system grows, your telephone service becomes more valuable still.

4. Where does the money come from...millions of new working dollars needed to extend and improve service? Millions must come, not from telephone bills, but from thousands of people who put their savings to work in the telephone business. To attract these working dollars, we must pay a reasonable amount for their use. This requires the sale of our services at fair and adequate prices.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company

More than 65,000 people working together to furnish ever-better telephone service to the West
